Headline:
Fine and dry on Monday. Murky and damp overnight.

Today:
A fine and dry day with plenty of sunny spells. Cloud will increase from the west during the afternoon but it'll remain bright, with perhaps the odd shower over the Pennines. Feeling milder than Sunday, with some light winds. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain and drizzle will move in during the evening, along with low cloud and areas of hill fog. A murky and damp end to the night. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cloudy morning with patchy drizzle soon clearing south to become dry and largely sunny. Quite breezy, particularly along the coast, but feeling pleasant in any sheltered areas. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Dry and bright on Wednesday, occasionally sunny. Cloudy with early rain on Thursday, occasionally breezy. Increasingly cloudy on Friday, with extensive low cloud, hill fog and drizzle. Rather cold.
